The Digital Newsletter of The Stitchers' Village

VOL 6 ISSUE 5 – May 2014

This weekend is a TNNA wholesale market in Indianapolis. I will be attending and hope to find some new and exciting things. It has been a while since I have been to the Summer market, but recall that the yarn companies have such great displays with unbelievably wonderful fibers. So inspiring! I also love to see the gorgeous needlepoint canvases in person. It is truly the "kid in a candy store" experience for me.

The Stitch Studio app developer is working on the Ipad version. I have not yet heard a date for the release, but the Windows version is available. Designers are working to convert their work and I notice that, in addition to the two complimentary charts I submitted, Kooler Design Studio now has some charts available to allow you to test drive the app before purchasing.

Hope to see you in the social area!
