VOL 6 ISSUE 8 – August 2014

Has this been a summer of stitching for you? Look forward to some excellent stitching options starting September 1 with the first release in the "Village Home" series. The designer quote from this is: "My Village Home would be in the middle of an English garden loaded with beautiful flowers." Can you guess who the designer is for this? The second in the series has been hinted at by the designer on the Facebook page dedicated to her stitching fans. So, I suppose it is ok for me to give a bit of information for the October 1 release. It will be "Best Friends Forever" from Glendon Place. It shows a witch and a black cat perched on a tree limb looking at the moon.

We just returned from a few days in Colorado. It was very relaxing and it will be a challenge to maintain the relaxation of the mountains while getting back to business.

Hope to see you in the social area!

August Drawing

The prize for the August drawing will be one each of the first three designs in the new "Village Home" design series (as they are released) which starts September 1. To enter, simply guess which designer has designed the first in the series with her description of her home in the Village being: "My Village Home would be in the middle of an English garden loaded with beautiful flowers." Send an email to: enter@stitchersvillage.com with your guess and your mailing address. There will be three winners chosen from the drawing entries to receive the first three designs of the series!

You know the second is from Glendon Place and the third is scheduled to be from Ink Circles!!

Member Contest My Village Home

To allow members to get involved and generate excitement for the upcoming "Village Home" series of charts, you are invited to enter a "My Village Home" ornament contest. To enter, please stitch and finish an ornament which represents either a theme or an element you and your home in The Stitchers' Village would have. Maybe your home would be made of Gingerbread to have Christmas all year round and your ornament would depict a little Gingerbread house. Or, be surrounded by a vineyard and your ornament would be a bunch of grapes. Make it personal to show one of your favorite things and use your imagination. The entry deadline is November 15, 2014. All entries will be given consideration for several prize categories. Check the "Activities" tab on the main village site for a pdf with details on submitting your entry. CLICK HERE
