The Stitches' Voice

The Digital Newsletter of The Stitches' Village

VOL 7 ISSUE 10 – October 2015

Last weekend, was the Needlework Galleria show in St. Charles, MO. This was a shopping opportunity for stitchers. If you have never attended a show like this, it is a great time. Shops and designers set up booths in the front part of the suites in an Embassy Suites Hotel. This makes for a very personal, welcoming venue to meet the designers and shop owners in person. Going room to room seeing all the great stitching merchandise is amazing. My booth featured fabric from Picture This Plus. I started ordering last April and had over 100 yards, plus, 99 fabric orphans. I had fun meeting members and signing up new members. Cheryl from Glendon Place was the guest designer in my booth. I also had a special helper who you may know from the community - Abi! She was an excellent ambassador for The Stitches' Village at the show! Thanks to those of you who stopped by to say "Hello".

The Halloween activity page is the next event on The Stitches' Village. The link will be sent out in an email and posted on the site under the Activities - Seasonal Fun link in the main menu.

Halloween Activity

October 28-31 there will be an activity page for Halloween. Watch for an email with the link

Your Village

I would like to remind everyone that the new community of The Stitchers' Village is a welcoming, friendly place. It is also YOUR village, so you may start a stitch along, exchange, challenge, etc., if you have an idea or would like to engage or challenge the members of TSV, start a group or forum discussion. On the "old" social area, links were prohibited, but that has been changed and needlework related links are encouraged. Also, I realize we primarily discuss cross stitch, but the site is intended for all forms of stitching to be incorporated. If you do needlepoint, quilting, or whatever other type of stitching, please get involved and "kick start" the discussions for your interest.
