

The Stitchers' Voice

Volume 10, Issue 10 – October 2018

Welcome to October! The Needlework Galleria was in September and I saw quite a few Villagers there! It is always a treat to meet people in person when I have been seeing their names for so many years on The Stitchers' Village. I really appreciate when you take the time to say hello. Some members post a picture on their profile in the community, so I should, technically, know what they look like. I have had it happen that someone "sure looks familiar". Other times, someone introduces themselves and it is great to put a face to a name. I have considered, for many years, the idea of a Village get together in the form of a retreat or show. It takes a lot of planning and coordination, however. I have never been able to decide the best location. Kansas City is the nearest airport to me, is a central location, and they have all the facilities we would need. The idea is still on the drawing board, so let me know if you have any suggestions!!

Do you have Halloween stitching projects in the works? I am working on a few Christmas ornaments, myself. The final section of the September Mystery Stitch Bingo, from Rosewood Manor, was posted on the 25th. It was a delightful little design and we had fun with it. I received the latest Rosewood Manor charts just in time to include some of those as prizes for the activity. I will say, it is quite a commitment to post and collect the sections for 25 days. I do not have the details of the next Mystery Stitch Bingo finalized, but watch for another coming soon.

If you have any suggestions of activities you would like to see on TSV, please let me know.

As always,

Happy Stitching! Patty

Activities

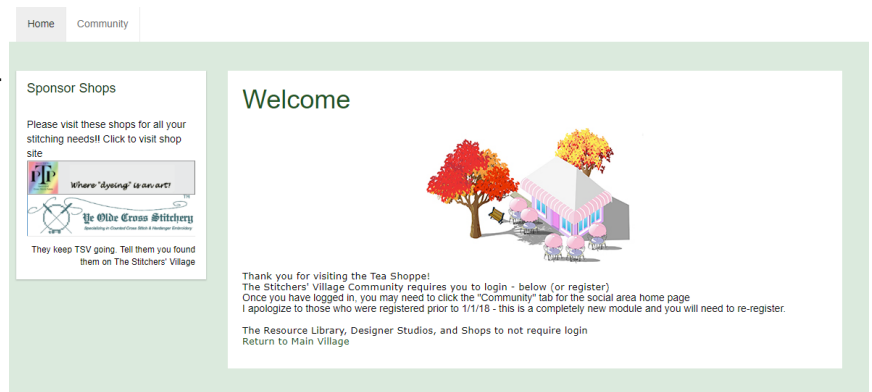

The 2018 September Mystery Stitch Bingo was a design from Rosewood Manor. This pretty little design was posted in 25 parts over 25 days beginning September 1st. On several days, a pop-up prize was presented to the person who stitched the section of the day and posted a picture in the group. The photo shown here is the grand prize winner's complete stitched project. Betti A. will receive "Baskets" chart, "Many Welcomes" chart signed by Karen, "Just Peachy" chart, "Glory to the Garden" chart "Crazy Socks" chart, "Advent Box" chart all from Rosewood Manor, the Valdani thread pack to stitch "Baskets" and a quarter sized fabric orphan from Picture This Plus. The random drawing and pop-up prizes are all Rosewood Manor charts.

The game was presented in The Community of The Stitches' Village. It is the password protected area of the site. To register and join the best needlework community, go to: <https://stitchersvillage.com/village>

Quick Tips for the Community

The current login page for The Stitches' Village Community is shown here. If you have not created an account since the first of the year, you will need to do so. There have been some issues for some with the login. If you choose the "Remember me" option, you may sometimes be given a "you do not have access" error message or something similar. What I have found (yes, I get it myself) is retyping my password seems to correct the issue. I do not know if the browser is saving the wrong password or if a space inadvertently gets entered in front of the password, but that is all I have had to do to correct the error. You should then be taken to your profile page. Clicking on "Community" from the top menu or the little house icon in the lower menu takes you to the home page feed for activity!! Enjoy!
